C- INFORMATION ON BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

Pegasus is Turkey's leading low-cost airline. Pegasus entered the aviation sector through charter flights in 1990. Following its acquisition by Esas Holding at the beginning of 2005, Pegasus changed its business model, introducing a low-cost network carrier model and focused on providing affordable and on-time air travel service with a young fleet.

As a result of the successful implementation of this low-cost strategy, Pegasus experienced rapid expansion of its operations both in domestic routes as well as internationally. In comparison to the cumulative annual growth rate of the Turkish market between 2007 and 2016 at 9.5%, the cumulative annual growth rate of passengers flying with Pegasus reached 22% during the same period. In addition to being the fastest growing airline in Turkey in terms of passenger numbers during this period, Pegasus was the fastest growing airline among the 25 largest European airlines in terms of seat capacity in 2011, 2012 and 2013 according to the Official Airline Guide (OAG).

Pegasus provides high-frequency services on short- and medium-haul, point-to-point and transit routes on its domestic and international network primarily from its main hub in Istanbul Sabiha Gökçen International Airport. Pegasus also offers scheduled flights from other domestic hubs, primarily in Adana, Ankara, Antalya and İzmir. As of December 31, 2017, Pegasus offered scheduled passenger services on 36 domestic routes in Turkey and 72 international routes to European (including North Cyprus), CIS, Middle Eastern and African destinations, serving a flight network covering 108 destinations in 41 different countries.

Pegasus also offers various services ancillary to the core air passenger services and generates revenue through the provision of these services, including pre-order and in-flight sales of beverages and food, sales of duty-free items on board international flights, excess baggage, reservation change and cancellation fees, airport check-in and seat selection fees. In 2017, the revenue recorded from ancillary services constituted 21.6% of total revenue for the period, while ancillary revenue increased by 41.4% year-over-year from 2016.

In addition to the above, Pegasus derives revenue from other services, primarily consisting of cargo services and a relatively low volume of charter and split charter flights for tour operators, which represented 5.1% of total revenue in 2017.

4- COMPANY'S BUSINESS AND MATERIAL DEVELOPMENTS RELATING TO THE COMPANY ACTIVITIES

A- SECTORAL OUTLOOK, AND POSITION OF THE COMPANY IN THE SECTOR, INFORMATION ON PRODUCTION UNITS, SALES, PRICING AND CHANGES IN THE FOREGOING THROUGHOUT THE YEAR; INFORMATION ON PRODUCTIVITY AND ANY CHANGES IN CONTRAST TO PREVIOUS YEARS

International Aviation Market

Globalization and the rapid expansion of worldwide trade volume turned transportation into one of the key sectors of today's world economy. Parallel to this development the aviation sector is experiencing growth at high levels and is playing a leading role in international and intercontinental integration.

In the past thirty years, the aviation sector gained a strong momentum amid increasingly dense social, political and economic relations and rose to prominence ahead of other methods of transportation. According to International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) data, scheduled passenger movement of 2.3 billion in 2006 reached 3.6 as of the end of 2015, showing an annual increase above 4.5% except in 2008 and 2009. International scheduled passenger movement alone increased from 808 million in 2006 to 1.4 billion in 2015 and showed an increase in each year covered in this period. According to the forecasts published by the International Air Transport Association (IATA), total passengers to be carried by air transportation is expected to rise to 7.2 billion by 2035. IATA forecasts indicate that the main driver in this increase will come from the Asia-Pacific region and that the assumptions may be affected by the increase or decrease in the globalization trend.

Turkish Aviation Market

Since 2003 Turkish civil aviation market has been one of the fastest developing markets thanks to several regulatory amendments beginning with the removal of price tariffs on domestic flights in 2001.

High airfares due to lack of competition in domestic flights prior to 2001 had prevented growth in the Turkish civil aviation market. Domestic competition emerged following the removal of taxes on air transportation, other than VAT on ticket prices, in 2003. These changes made air transportation more affordable to Turkish citizens and triggered growth in the market.

The Turkish civil aviation industry significantly outperformed gross domestic product (GDP) in the last 12 years. Between 2003 and 2015 real Turkish GDP compound annual growth rate (CAGR) was 14%, while according to the data published by the General Directorate of State Airports Authority (DHMI) the upwards trend in terms of number of domestic passengers with CAGR of 26% in the same period was more than 1.8 times the growth in GDP. Number of domestic and international passengers increased by CAGR of 14.5% between 2003 and 2015. Turkish aviation market also resisted macroeconomic fluctuations during this period. For example, despite a 4.8% decline in GDP in 2009 domestic and international passenger numbers increased by 15.1 and 1.5%, respectively.

Following the first decrease in the total number of passengers since 2003 by 4.1% (5.8% in domestic passengers and 15.5% in international passengers) in 2016 on a year-over-year basis, triggered by the increased geopolitical risks and security threats arising in the region surrounding Turkey, a cumulative growth of 11% (6.9% in domestic passengers and 17.1% in international passengers) was achieved in 2017.

Development of Pegasus Market Share Since 2005

Following its acquisition by Esas Holding at the beginning of 2005, Pegasus changed its business model, introducing a low-cost network carrier model and focused on providing affordable and on-time air travel service with a young fleet.

As a result of the successful implementation of this low-cost strategy, Pegasus experienced rapid expansion of its operations both in domestic routes as well as internationally. In comparison to the cumulative annual growth rate of the Turkish market between 2007 and 2016 at 14%, the cumulative annual growth rate of the scheduled passengers flying with Pegasus reached 22% during the same period. In addition to being the fastest growing airline in Turkey in terms of passenger numbers during this period, Pegasus was the fastest growing airline among the 25 largest European airlines in terms of seat capacity in 2011, 2012 and 2013 according to the Official Airline Guide (OAG).

Total number of passengers carried by Pegasus in 2017 was 27.8 million and this number represents a 15.2% increase from 2016. The total number of passengers carried in domestic and international flights in, into and from Turkey in the same period was 193 million according to the data provided by DHMI, which indicates an 11% increase from 2016.

Flying to 36 domestic destinations as of December 31, 2017, Pegasus increased total number of domestic passengers carried by 10.5% compared to 2016 and reached 16.9 million passengers with a load factor of 87.2%. On the international scale, as of December 31, 2017, Pegasus flew to 72 destinations in 41 countries and increased the total number of passengers carried by 21.7% compared to 2016 to 10.5 million passengers in total, realizing a load factor of 80.5%.

The table below indicates Pegasus market share trend in terms of domestic and international scheduled passenger numbers between 2014 and 2017:

Pegasus Market Share Data (2014 – 2017)

	2014	2015	2016	2017
Domestic	28.0%	28.5%	29.9%	30.8%
International	9.3%	9.6%	11.6%	12.4%

Despite the increase in the number of passengers carried and the Company's increased market share, Pegasus had initiated a "3C Initiatives" action plan in the second half of 2016 in response to the Turkish aviation market development in 2016, that was successfully driven throughout 2017. The action plan comprised the review of cost items, process simplification, workforce optimization, revenue management initiatives and several other actions and resulted in an improved CASK performance, cash position and fleet capacity management.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES COMPLIANCE REPORT

SECTION I - CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES COMPLIANCE STATEMENT

During the year that ended on December 31, 2017, the Corporate Governance Principles determined by the Capital Markets Board were implemented by Pegasus as described below.

Immediately following the initial public offering of its shares in April 2013, Pegasus achieved full compliance with the mandatory Corporate Governance Principles and substantially complied with the remaining, non-mandatory Corporate Governance Principles within the same year as the initial public offering of its shares. With respect to the non-mandatory Corporate Governance Principles listed below with which, as of December 31, 2017, our Company had not yet attained full compliance, evaluations are underway to achieve compliance at the highest level possible.

As a result of the independent rating study undertaken by Kobirate Uluslararası Kredi Derecelendirme ve Kurumsal Yönetim Hizmetleri A.Ş. in 2017 with respect to our compliance with the Corporate Governance Principles (all of the mandatory and non-mandatory provisions), our Company's compliance rating was determined as 9.25 out of 10.00 as of August 21, 2017.

The full report of the said rating agency accessible on our Investor Relations website indicates that our Company substantially complies with the Corporate Governance Principles, that recommendations by the agency for improved compliance (among the items listed below) do not raise any major risks and that our Company has therefore attained the right to be included in the BIST Corporate Governance Index.

Pegasus is a member of the BIST Corporate Governance Index since 2014 and remains committed to continuously reviewing domestic and international developments in corporate governance and further improving its corporate governance practices. As part of the initiatives for improving the Company's corporate governance practices, in 2017, Pegasus achieved improvement shareholder and stakeholder relations through various new Board practices, corporate policies and procedures and the active participation of our employees in our Company's strategic planning process. Pegasus was also included in the BIST Sustainability Index in 2017 based on its performance for a number of sustainability criteria, including corporate governance.

The Corporate Governance Principles with which, as of December 31, 2017, our Company had not yet attained full compliance are listed below:

- Minority rights have not been granted to those holding less than 5% of the Company capital, which is the statutory threshold, and the scope of statutory minority rights have not been broadened through special provisions in our Articles of Association.
- The Company does not have an active practice regarding the rewarding or dismissal of Directors as part of the performance evaluation studies conducted by the Board of Directors.
- Although honorarium entitlements and compensation relating to committee duties for the members of the Board of Directors are disclosed on an individual basis, salary and benefits provided to the members of Senior Management are not disclosed on an individual basis.

Under the auspices of the Corporate Governance Committee, we are undertaking studies to improve current corporate governance practices and are regularly reviewing the foregoing matters for any need to change existing practices. In this respect, a comprehensive Board self-assessment study was conducted in 2017, triggering several improvements, among others, in terms of Board and Committee reporting, Board Member orientation and Management interaction and performance evaluation for each Board Member. With respect to extending minority rights by virtue of an amendment to the Articles of Association, the Company's assessment is that given the Company's fulfillment of the minimum statutory requirements in this regard, the absence of extended minority rights does not create any conflict of interest. The Company also continues to disclose Board and Senior Management remuneration and benefits on a consolidated basis, which is regarded to be in line with the practice adopted by other BIST Corporate Governance Index participants.
